

HUNGER IN CHARLOTTE?

INNOVATIVE COLLABORATION
TO ADDRESS LOCAL
FOOD SECURITY

This event brings together researchers, community leaders/organizers, residents, and students from Charlotte's schools, colleges and universities, local government, and community-based organizations to address food security in the city. This is an opportunity to celebrate and strengthen partnerships, explore the latest research, and develop strategies for creative collaboration and innovative approaches to food security locally.

APRIL 11, 2016

10:00am - 2:00pm

UNC CHARLOTTE CENTER CITY

HUNGER IN CHARLOTTE?

INNOVATIVE COLLABORATION TO ADDRESS LOCAL FOOD SECURITY

9:30am - 10am -- REGISTRATION

10am -10:20am -- KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Sonya Jones –University of South Carolina
Associate Professor and Director, Center for Research in Nutrition and Health Disparities

10:30am - 11:45am -- FOOD SECURITY
PRESENTATIONS

Cheryl Curtis—Johnson C. Smith University
Why Should Institutions of Higher Learning Care About
Food Security?

Beth Racine—University of North Carolina at Charlotte
Calories or nutrients?

Leigh Ann Edwards Hall -- Share Our Strength
No Kid Hungry, a Campaign of Share Our Strength

Reginald White -- Social Venture Partners Charlotte
Nurturing Seeds of Greatness

David Brown -- Second Harvest Food Bank of Metrolina
End Hunger

11:45am - 12:15pm -- STUDENT POSTER
SESSION

12:15 - 2pm -- LUNCH --FROM CONVERSATION
TO ACTION

Victor Romano -- Johnson C. Smith University
Katherine Metzger -- Elemental Research & Consulting
State of the Plate Report

UNC CHARLOTTE

HUNGER IN CHARLOTTE?

INNOVATIVE COLLABORATION TO ADDRESS LOCAL FOOD SECURITY

STUDENT POSTER SESSION

Living Through Giving: Delivering Lunches and Compassion Though Community and Organizational Partnerships in The Charlotte Area

Alexis Beckton

UNC Charlotte, Africana Studies / Sociology

Assessment of the Friendship Gardens Mobile Market 2013 and 2014

Rebecca Bubp

UNC Charlotte, Anthropology

Importance of Qualitative Research in a Community Food Assessment

Maura Condon

UNC Charlotte, Anthropology

Navigating the Food Environment: Assessing an On-campus Student Food Pantry at UNC Charlotte

Tre'Sean Cooks and Kelsea Smart

UNC Charlotte, Niner Student Pantry

Healthy Food Availability in SNAP-Authorized Drugstores in North Carolina

Ashley Kennedy

UNC Charlotte, Sociology

Convalescence: Recovering Cities + Endangered Infrastructure by Reconsidering Food Ecosystems

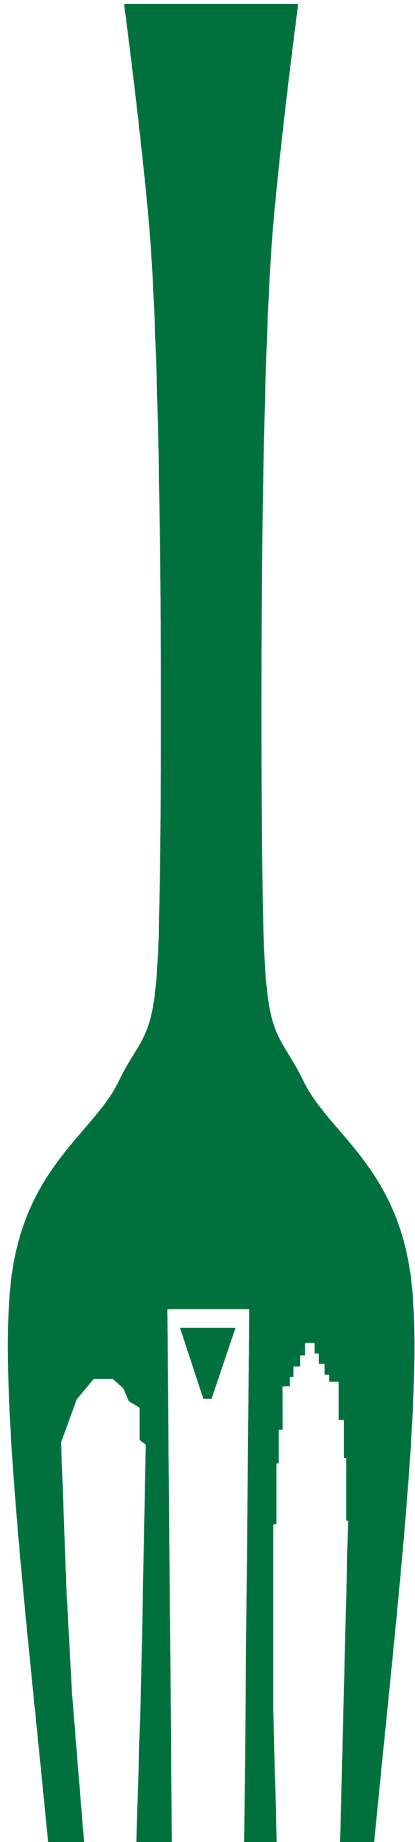

Mason Linkous

UNC Charlotte, School of Architecture

Creating Culinary Communities: Food Performance as a Social Intervention

Amy Stewart

UNC Charlotte, School of Architecture

UNC CHARLOTTE

HUNGER IN CHARLOTTE?

INNOVATIVE COLLABORATION TO ADDRESS LOCAL FOOD SECURITY

NOTES

